

CUTTER GRANT SENT TO THE BEHRING SEABOAT GOT ORDERS VERY UN-EXPECTEDLY.

Left Port Townsend This Morning For The Scene of Her Duties—Ugly Crisis Reached in the Negotiations With England On the Seal Fishery Question.

Port Townsend, May 15.—The revenue cutter Grant has been very unexpectedly ordered to Behring sea. An ugly crisis has been reached in the negotiations between the United States and Great Britain looking to the adoption of uniform regulations for the government of the seal fishery this season. The British government positively refuses to renege the regulation of last year, which prohibits the carrying of firearms by sealing vessels through the zone north of the thirty-fifth parallel during the closed season. The United States officials look upon this as disastrous to the seal fisheries and the United States cutters have gone out under the old instructions to seize all vessels carrying arms not under seal. These must be modified speedily by orders sent through the Alaska Commercial company's steamer, which leaves San Francisco in a day or two, or else there may be another big claim for damages on account of illegal seizures filed by the British government. It is held by the state department that the effect of the British action is to practically nullify all measures of protection for the seals that were conferred by the Paris arbitration, and it would not be surprising if this course is persisted in if it resulted in a declaration by the United States of the abrogation of the treaty.

GOV. EVANS STIRRED UP.

Address to the Citizens of South Carolina.

Columbia, S. C., May 15.—Gov. Evans has issued a long address to citizens of South Carolina in which he deals harshly with the recent decisions in the dispensary and registration cases. He says: "The people of South Carolina have always been law-abiding and respect the constitution and the courts of the United States. But when the judges of those courts wantonly invade and trample under foot the recognized rights of our people, guaranteed by the federal constitution, they have a right to assert themselves and maintain their sovereignty and independence. This they have ever done and will continue to do and will resist with all the means within their power usurpation and tyranny and partisan politicians in high places who disgrace the judicial ermine." He denounces Judge Goff in the most bitter tones, and closes as follows: "I appeal to the sovereign people of South Carolina to protect their homes and liberties. The government of the people must and shall be perpetuated, and we are ready to lead the fight under the white man's flag."

VETOES THREE BILLS.

Gov. Altgeld Expresses Disapproval of Legislative Acts.

Springfield, Ill., May 15.—Gov. Altgeld yesterday vetoed the two street and elevated railroad bills, introduced by Senator Crawford, and the gas and electric light franchise bill, introduced by Representative Miller. These measures are mostly of interest to Chicago, and while an effort will be made to pass them over the veto, not much interest is taken in the matter by members from other parts of the state.

In the house Mr. Brignadello, by unanimous consent, introduced a bill to regulate the charges of horse markets and the commissions or brokerage on sales of horses. The revenue bill was called up by Mr. Needles on second reading. After the adoption of some amendments, further consideration of the bill was deferred until the afternoon session. Mr. Ely's bill amending the garnishment law, known as the "grocer's garnishment bill," came up on second reading. Mr. Berry moved to strike out the enacting clause. The motion prevailed. The measure was opposed by a number of labor organizations. At the afternoon session the revenue bill was advanced to third reading. The senate bill authorizing cities, villages, and incorporated towns to levy a tax not exceeding 2 per cent on the receipts of foreign fire insurance companies doing business therein, for the benefit of the organized fire departments of such cities, villages, and towns, was passed without opposition. The committee bill, increasing the number of state mine inspectors from five to seven, and providing for the payment of an inspection fee by the owners of coal mines, was passed.

In the senate, Mr. O'Brien passed a bill to prohibit gambling in grain, beef, pork, lard, and provisions by corporations, brokers, or others unless they can show a warehouse certificate or receipt for the same, and providing for a fine for such violations of not less than $500 or more than $1,000 for each offense. A like fine is made the penalty for the issuing of warehouse receipts for a greater amount of bushels of grain or other produce than that actually stored.

Decision Against Western Union.

Indianapolis, Ind., May 15.—The supreme court has decided the act of 1893 under which telegraph companies are assessed is constitutional. The decision is in the case of the Western Union Telegraph Company against the auditor of Marion county and all the other auditors and treasurers in the state. It is a great blow to the telegraph company. The ground on which the injunction was asked was that the act was not passed in accordance with provisions of the constitution, and that it is in violation of the constitution of the United States.

LOST WITH ALL HANDS.

The Schooner Kate Kelley Goes Down in Lake Michigan.

Chicago, May 15.—Yesterday afternoon shortly after 2 o'clock Superintendent N. K. Higgle of the Vessel Owners' Towing Company, received a telephone message from Kenosha stating that wreckage from the schooner Kate Kelley, in command of Capt. Hartley J. Hatch, of Chicago, and manned by a crew of five besides the captain was floating five miles south of Kenosha, Wis. Late advice says the fishing tug Alice picked up seven miles off shore, between here and Waukegan, much wreckage of a vessel lost in the gale. The wreckage consisting of pieces of yawl boat, pieces of cabin painted dark lead color, one post fore sheet painted white with the name of "Kate Kelley" on it, one oar, one tub, one pall, with steamer Petoskey on it, piece of two-inch plank with "Hatch, Toledo, Ohio," and railroad ties. The lake is full of wreckage off this port seven or eight miles out and all the fish tugs are coming in with carcasses of hemlock ties. There is no doubt that this vessel has gone to pieces and all hands lost.

Pence Out of Politics.

New York, May 15.—Ex-Congressman Lafe Pence, formerly of Colorado, who is at the Astor House, said: "I am out of politics and I am now in the railroad business. Although I have left the night under the white man's flag."

LAFE PENCE.

the home of populism, I am none the less a populist. Bimetallism must come. By it alone can the prosperity of the country be restored. I was elected as a silver democrat in 1892. I went into congress on the silver issue, talked there on silver and was licked in 1894. I am still a silver man, and I must say that I am obliged to my constituents for retiring me."

Manitoba Makes Concessions.

Ottawa, Ont., May 15.—It is stated on apparently good authority that the dominion and Manitoba governments have almost arrived at an understanding on the Manitoba school question. Premier Greenaway and Attorney General Sifton, of Manitoba, will arrive in Ottawa in a few days to consult with Premier Bowen, Sir Charles Tupper, the minister of justice, and Lord Aberdeen. Manitoba, it is stated, will not object to allowing Roman Catholics the privilege of establishing separate schools, while paying for them out of taxes of the Catholics.

SELF THIS MORNING.

Manitowoc, May 15.—[Special]—Manitowoc was startled today when it was learned that City Treasurer Fred Mauehl had taken his own life. Mauehl was one of Manitowoc's most influential business men and was interested financially in the big chair factory at this place. This morning he went into his woodshed and an instant later a pistol shot was heard. The family and immediate neighbors who heard the report hastened to investigate and found that Mauehl had shot himself in the head with a revolver, death occurring soon after.

RAILROAD STRIKES AT THE A. R. U.

Great Northern Discharges Three Members—Labor Troubles.

St. Cloud, Minn., May 15.—What is regarded as a direct blow at the American Railway Union was struck by the Great Northern yesterday when Division Superintendent J. B. Rice, acting under written instructions from General Superintendent E. W. McKenna, discharged the three most prominent local A. R. U. men, all train dispatchers, employed by the company. The news created a sensation, as no cause was assigned, and because it was believed by many, and so asserted by the discharged men, that it is on account of their affiliation with the A. R. U.

The three men named are W. H. Clark, president of the union; A. E. Buser, secretary, and Samuel Welch, delegate to the last national convention in Chicago. The men have been very active in increasing the membership of the local union. Clark is one of the oldest railroad men here and the other two have been in St. Cloud for some time. There can be no doubt that the company's action is significant and it is reported that other discharges of American Railway Union men are to follow.

The A. R. U. will without question demand the reinstatement of the men or good or sufficient reason for their discharge, which, it is claimed, can not be given, as the men have always borne the reputation of being most excellent employees. The only view to be taken of the case at this time is that the men were discharged because they were agitators and if this proves to be the case the next few days will witness trouble of a serious nature between the Great Northern and the American Railway Union.

Adjourns Without Results.

Terre Haute, Ind., May 15.—The joint meeting of the bituminous operators and miners of Indiana adjourned sine die last night without being able to agree on a scale for the ensuing year. The operators offered to settle on last year's scale of 60 cents a ton on condition that the Illinois and Grape Creek competing fields come up to that figure, but the miners refused to accept that figure unless it was made without any conditions. On this rock the conference committees split, and the miners left the committee room in an angry mood. The situation is one of utter chaos. The operators later went into session to determine, if possible, on individual action to get their mines worked.

PLOT TO KILL TOM REED.

Portland Police Find a Package of Nitro-Glycerine Near His House.

Portland, Me., May 15.—This city is excited over the discovery of evidence which leads the police and many citizens to believe that some crank planned to blow up the residence of Thomas B. Reed and Mayor Henry Baxter.

While patrolling Deering street last night near the Reed and Baxter houses

THOMAS B. REED.

Policeman McCormack found on the sidewalk an envelope containing three vials filled with a dark yellow fluid and wrapped in cotton-battling. Pinned inside the envelope was a slip of paper upon which was some writing in an unknown tongue, resembling a combination of Greek and Armenian. There was nothing in English except "M. Baxter, Rev. 123, A. O. U. I., 22, 23, M. Reed, Morrill, L. Morrow." It was at first thought that the mysterious package had been placed on the walk by some joker, but when a druggist pronounced the fluid in the vials to be nitroglycerin the police began to look at the matter seriously. The entire police force has begun an investigation.

CONVENE AT ELGIN.

Illinois Sunday School Workers Meet in Large Numbers.

Elgin, Ill., May 15.—The thirty-seventh annual convention of the Illinois state Sunday-school association opened in this city yesterday with a fine attendance from all parts of the state. The report of State Secretary W. B. Jacobs shows that the total number of Sunday-school workers in Illinois is 744,028, which represents about one-sixth of the population of the state. In Cook county alone there are 168,202 scholars and 17,306 teachers in 903 churches. The increase of scholars in the past year was 12,500. The total number of schools is 7,676, a gain of 307 over the previous year. The largest gain was twenty-four in Cook county. Ninety-two counties report 28,726 members added to the church from Sunday schools, an increase of 4,792. The same counties report $34,686.67 given by schools for missionary purposes, a gain of $2,554.32.

CATHOLIC KNIGHTS MEET.

Proposed Consolidation of All Similar Organizations in the Country.

Omaha, May 15.—Nearly two thousand delegates are in the city to take part in the national convention of the Catholic Knights of America, and which will be in session here for several days. Among the principal questions to be considered is one looking to the consolidation of all Catholic organizations that have mutual interests and are not confined to theological matters. In the United States there are ten or more Catholic mutual insurance companies, with an aggregate membership of nearly a quarter of a million. If these can be brought together the combined organization will be the largest of its kind in the world.

Ann Arbor Wants Money.

Lansing, Mich., May 15.—Two years ago the Michigan legislature passed what is known as the one-sixth mill tax law for the permanent support of the Michigan university, with the distinct understanding that no further appropriations would be asked of future legislatures. Notwithstanding this the faculty came this year, asking for about $240,000 for special improvements. The ways and means committee have refused to report this bill, and yesterday the house by a vote of 53 to 23 took the bill from the committee and made its consideration the special order for this afternoon. Its fate is somewhat uncertain. In the senate the Smalley capital punishment bill was made the special order for Friday of this week.

Hennessey a Cold Spell.

Hennessey, O. T., May 15.—The dry, hot winds of the last few days have had a disastrous effect on grain, and if they continue will kill all the wheat. The effect on oats and corn is also severe. Business is almost at a standstill owing to the uncertainty of crops.

PROOFS OF ARMENIAN MASSACRE

Pits Filled With The Bodies Are Found By Commissioners.

Constantinople, May 15.—The commission which has been investigating the atrocities in Armenia traversed the devastated villages and arrived at Jellygozan, where 120 houses were found to have been burned.

The people were sheltered in miserable huts and ample proof was found of the truth of the stories told regarding the massacre of Armenians, and the fact that their bodies were thrown in large numbers into a pit, where the Turks endeavored to conceal their crime by pouring barrels of petroleum upon the bodies and setting fire to the oil. The flames, however, failed to consume the mass and a stream was dammed and diverted from its course in order to wash away the half-burned bodies. But even this failed to obliterate the terrible evidence against the Turks, and the local authorities were compelled to remove the remains piecemeal. The villagers had removed the bulk of the bodies and interred them in consecrated ground before the arrival of the commission at Jellygozan. The commission has returned to Moosh.

As a result of the investigation and the reports of the delegates of the powers, the powers have submitted notes to the Turkish government impressing upon the porte the necessity of promptly devising a scheme for Armenian reforms, which should include the appointment of Christian officials in Armenia, the powers to have the right to veto the appointments by the governors.

The notes of the delegates of the powers do not base their suggestions on the Sassoun outrages, but on the general unsatisfactory condition of Armenia.

MIRBACH'S MOTION ACCEPTED.

Bimetallism Scores a Point in Germany.

Berlin, May 15.—The committee appointed by the upper house of the Prussian diet to discuss the motion of Count von Mirbach, the leader of the Agrarians, favoring an international agreement for the use of both gold and silver, has accepted the motion by a vote of 10 to 4. Among the members of the committee are: Freiherr von Manteuffel, Count von Frankenburg, and Count zu Dohla-Lauck for the bimetalists, and Dr. Koch of the Imperial bank for the monometallists.

Predict a Brief Campaign.

Martinez de Campos against the Cuban insurgents will be brief rather than generally expected. The military operations, they add, will be pushed during the rainy season. Capt. Gen. Martinez de Campos will remain in Cuba until order is completely restored, which, it is claimed, will probably be before the beginning of next year.

gressman Outwaite is to be made secretary of war. The story is not denied nor is it admitted in confidential Outwaite circles. Mr. Outwaite is en route to Europe, to return July 1. The president, Mr. Lamont and Mr. Outwaite are known to be very close friends. The talk at this end of the line has been sub rosa, but is printed in full now so far as it may be without violating confidence.

Advance 10 Per Cent for 25,000 Men.

Pittsburg, Pa., May 15.—The board of managers of the Carnegie Steel company decided last night to advance the wages of its 25,000 men 10 per cent, the raise to take effect June 1. It is not known what effect this will have on the fight of the Amalgamated association in other mills. Outside manufacturers say that in many instances the Carnegie scale is 50 per cent lower than the Amalgamated scale, but this can not be determined accurately by reason of the fact that the improved machinery of the Carnegie company's mills gives the men much greater earning power than in other mills. This is the first advance since the reduction of 1892.

THE DAMAGE DONE BY FROST

The Weekly Report of the Weather and

Washington, May 15.—The weather bureau, in its regular weekly report of weather and crop conditions, issued yesterday, says the great feature of the week was the remarkable cool wave which overspread nearly the whole of the country east of the Rocky mountains on the 11th and 12th, attended by freezing weather in the northern states and frost as far south as the Ohio valley and western portion of South Carolina. This period of cold has proved very unfavorable to growing crops, and much injury has resulted from frosts throughout the northern portions of the country.

The line of freezing temperature extends from Western Montana southeast to Western Nebraska, thence northward to Southern North Dakota and thence eastward through the southern portions of Minnesota, Wisconsin and Michigan, Northeastern Ohio and Northwestern Pennsylvania, to Western New York, the lowest temperature within the United States being 10 deg. below freezing in the extreme northern portion of Minnesota and Montana. The following special telegrams were received by the weather bureau from the several state services:

Illinois—Frost damage slight in southern portion, but in northern counties corn, fruit and garden truck greatly damaged; first of week very hot, then very cold; rainfall plentiful in north and west half, but much needed in southern portion; strawberries being marketed in southern portion; large yield, excellent quality; wheat, rye, oats, sprouting corn, and clover injured by drought and insects in southern and southeastern counties.

Indiana—Frost Monday night probably caused injury in localities, especially in the northern portion; very warm weather first of week and local rains fell several days; crops advanced only slowly; corn coming up nicely; cutworms numerous and doing much damage.

Michigan—Warm, bountiful rains have improved and rapidly advanced all vegetation; corn and potatoes planting rapidly, progressing; frost Saturday and Sunday slightly damaged fruits, corn and garden truck in lower peninsula, and fruits in upper.

Wisconsin—Favorable conditions during the first half of the week caused rapid growth and put farm work two weeks in advance of average season; heavy frost Saturday, and Monday nights killed fruits and vegetables in northern and injured them severely in central portion; damage to corn and grain comparatively light; corn not generally up; injury to strawberries moderate.

Iowa—First half week extremely warm, last half unseasonably cold with severe frosts; garden truck, potatoes, grapes and berries badly injured, but small grain not materially hurt; corn in low places was cut down, but will recover.

North Dakota—The week was generally favorable; heavy frosts have injured the fruit and gardens, but no damage to crops is reported, and it is not thought they have been seriously injured; prospects remain the best for several years.

South Dakota—General condition favorable except gardens; fruit and potatoes considerably and cereals slightly affected by frost in many localities in eastern portion; field crops will recover; considerable permanent injury to fruit; cold weather promoting small grain stalling.

Kansas—Warm and little rain, except in eastern counties; corn doing well, but wheat, oats, flax and fruits affected by drought; frost cut corn, gardens and some fruits in central and western counties.

DEFICIT OVER $50,000,000.

If the Income Tax Be Knocked Out It May Reach $60,000,000.

Washington, May 15.—The treasury deficit yesterday passed the $50,000,000 mark, the exact amount of the excess of expenditures over the receipts since July 1, 1894, being $50,404,887. The receipts from customs so far this year amount to a little over $133,000,000, which is about $1,000,000 in excess of customs receipts during the whole of the last fiscal year. The internal revenue receipts this year to date aggregate about $125,000,000, as against $147,111,232 during the fiscal year 1894. The best information obtainable as to the net result of the year's financial operations is that even if the income tax law is permitted to remain as it is, the deficiency July 1 next will exceed $55,000,000, and if the law is declared unconstitutional it may reach $60,000,000.

Court Says the Law Is Valid.

Columbus, O., May 15.—The supreme court has decided that the Montgomery law, requiring employers' liability insurance companies to deposit $50,000 in securities with the state insurance commissioner before doing business in this state, is valid and in force. The suit was brought by the Fidelity and Casualty Company, of New York.

A HORSE IS ROASTED IN A BLAZING BARN

CRUEL RESULTS OF AN INCEN- DIARY'S WORK.

Building at The Home of David Conger Totally Destroyed By Fire Early This Morning—The Loss is Fully $1000 With But $400 Insurance—Horse Team Ran Away.

David Conger's family horse was cremated when his large barn at 205 Washington street, was totally destroyed by fire early this morning. In the barn was a buggy, cutter, harness, a ton and a half of hay, and a hundred bushels or more of oats, besides the horse and a lot of articles of more or less value that were stored in the barn. The buggy was all that could be got out. The loss will be at least $1,000 with an insurance of $400 in Metcalf & Carter's agency.

An alarm was turned in from box 12, located at the corner of Mineral Point avenue and Washington street, at 3:44 o'clock, the fire department responding in good time. The barn was enveloped in flames when discovered, and could not be saved. The dwelling house and barn next north, owned and occupied by Engineer E. P. Baker, caught fire several times, but were saved with slight damage. At 5 o'clock the fire was extinguished and the department returned to their quarters.

No Light In The Building.

The fire had a mysterious origin, and was probably the work of an incendiary. Mr. Conger said he was in the barn last night at 6 o'clock to care for his horse. He did not use a light, and there had been no light in the barn to his knowledge, since last winter. The fire was first discovered by Mrs. E. P. Baker who said she was awakened about the time the electric lights were put out, by a noise in the barn. On looking out she saw a light at Mr. Conger's barn and then she saw a man moving towards Mr. Conger's back door. Supposing the man to be Mr. Conger and that he had a sick horse she paid no more attention to it, but retired to bed. Soon after her daughter called to her saying she smelled smoke.

"I then looked out and saw the barn was all on fire, and ran over to Mr. Conger's house in my night clothes and aroused him," she said. Mr. Conger and son hurried to the barn but were too late to rescue the horse. On opening the door it was discovered that the whole lower portion of the barn was on fire, and the only thing they could get out was the buggy, which stood close by the doorway. A son of Engineer Baker was out by this time and hastened to box 12 and turned in the alarm.

Looked Like Incendiarism.

A number of reports were circulated around the fire this morning; that a man was seen to jump out of the window in the upper story, after the alarm had been turned in, which story Mrs. Baker verifies. However, the fire was either the work of an incendiary, or was caused by mice gnawing at matches. Mr. Conger says all the doors on the ground floor were fastened, and that when he went to the barn this morning to rescue his horse, he found all the doors closed and locked as he had left them, although an upper window was open. It therefore looks as though the fire might have possibly been the work of mice. The barn was quite a large one, well built throughout being finished inside with matched ceiling.

Horse Team Ran Away.

The west side horse carriage was slightly damaged at the fire. While the men were "taking up" the horse the team took fright and started on a run. Con. J. Murphy, who is on the sick list, but was at the fire, grabbed hold of one of the horses but could not hold them. The team ran into a fence, knocking out a post, then passed through E. P. Baker's dooryard, striking the corner of the house, caromed off and ran into a tree at the sidewalk, breaking the tongue away from the carriage. The frightened team then ran down Olive street to Madison where they were caught. The ironwork connecting the pole to the carriage was broken, and the dashboard split into several pieces which constituted the damage, the team escaping injury.

CYCLERS GET BACK AT A FARMER

They Got Half the Road By Blowing Their Whistles.

A farmer who thought that a party of cyclers had no business on the public highway, learned something the other day. The cyclers politely requested him to give them enough room to pass but he refused. Each of the twenty wheelmen carried a "Devil" whistle, which the manufacturer guarantees can be heard for five miles, and at a given signal they all turned the whistles loose. The team gave one plunge and then started to run. When the farmer succeeded in stopping them he at once took a side road so as not to meet any more wheelmen.

This is the number of years Joe Loeb the veteran butcher has put in cutting off fine steaks and roasts. During this time Joe has had the best butcher business in the town, at one time killing and selling 50 head of cattle a month. "In recognition of the life and services of this learned and eminent judge and jurist, who for almost a life-time devoted himself to the service of the public in different positions of trust and responsibility, in a manner which enabled him to be held in high position in the public estimation; and who departed this life on the 8th day of April last, it is deemed proper and fitting that the mournful occasion of his death should be commemorated upon the records of the court.

Therefore, on Wednesday, the fifth day of June, A. D. 1895, at ten o'clock a. m., in the Court House, in the city of Juneau, Judge Warham Parks, the successor of Judge Sloan, will open court, at which time and place memorial exercises appropriate to the occasion will be had. The public are respectfully invited to attend." H. W. LANDER, President Bar Association, Dodge County.

ARE CATCHING PLENTY OF FISH.

Monterey People Do Not Have to Patronize the Meat Markets.

Monterey people are not spending much money for fish these days. The river banks and the bridge are lined with fishermen of all kinds, from the small boy up to the gray-haired grandpapa. Although the law isn't up until the 1st of June for pickerel or bass, some are being caught they say, and few of them ever see their way back to the water. Very few of the small boys ever heard of such a law, for a fish is a fish to them, and when once landed that settles the funny fellows. The bullhead is the most common fish in that locality and many are being caught. A new scheme in catching fish is being tried below the dam. One of the young men employed at the lower cotton mills, has a line made of small wire with a loop on the end of it. He fishes in shallow water, where he can see his game, and as soon as a fish goes half way through the loop, a sudden pull lands him.

BRIEF BITS OF LOCAL NEWS

STANDING room only, is the only way we have our signs printed now, and every day we use them. There seems to be no let up on the amount of people who come to us for fine shoes at 50 cents on the dollar. They come from every nook and corner of this and all the surrounding counties. We are enjoying a shoe trade beyond our most sanguine expectations. Becker & Woodruff.

THE Henney buggies are in as great demand as bicycles, and while the Henney people are running full capacity, it seems impossible to fill all orders. The people in this vicinity are just becoming acquainted with this superb make of buggies, and seldom a day passes but we sell from two to eight. The facts are, no such buggy is in the market, and cannot be had F. A. Taylor.

ONCE a customer always a customer. We try to use our trade so that once a buyer you will always feel at home with us. We have no balloons to fly to entertain you with, but when it comes to selling reliable shoes we are a full team and a horse to let. Brown Bros. & Lincoln.

No dull days here; no difference how cloudy it may be, or how cold and disagreeable it is, our store is crowded with a throng of people anxious to get some of the many bargains we are offering in shoes at 50 cents on the dollar. Becker & Woodruff.

THE opportunity the people have wanted is here, and now Henney buggies can be had at home. No such buggies are made anywhere but in Freeport and we sell them. Step in and see. No harm will befall you. 100 buggies to select from. F. A. Taylor.

Get a fit. It can be done. Old stock with all the selling sizes sold may not contain your size, but we pride ourselves on having the selling sizes be it an A wide or a double EE. If you are footsore or have corns, bunions, onions or ingrown toe nails come to us. Brown Bros. & Lincoln.

It's a very poor day in our buggy department when we don't sell 3 buggies—the Henney make—and we have sold as high as 8 in one day. The people know where the best is for the least money. F. A. Taylor.

It's impossible to say too much in favor of our stock of fine shoes. The best makes the world ever produced is there, and all going at 50 cents on the dollar. $30.00 worth to select from. Becker & Woodruff.

WHEN we say carpet slippers 25 cents a pair we mean we have plenty of them and that 25 cents is what you'll have to pay. We don't have any funny business at our store. Brown Bros. & Lincoln.

ALTHOUGH we have no bankrupt stock of shoes we are selling our regular bought shoes, which we thoroughly guarantee at prices equal to any bankrupt stock in the town. We allow no one to undersell us. Lloyd & Son.

A COUNTY PIONEER CALLED BY DEATH

POSTMASTER DENNIS RYAN PASSES AWAY.

He Was Well Known Throughout the State As a Railroad Contractor And Had Lived in Rock County For Fifty Two Years—His Service In The War—Funeral On Friday.

Dennis Ryan, postmaster at Footville, whose dangerous illness was mentioned in The Gazette Monday evening, died at his home in Footville, yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock. The immediate cause of his death was hemorrhage of the lungs. He had been sick, however, for the past seven weeks. For five years past he had been in poor health, necessitating giving up his business as railroad contractor, which he has followed since 1871, having been engaged in railway construction in many states in the west.

Dennis Ryan was born in Pennsylvania, and was fifty-three years and five months old. For fifty-two years he had been a resident of the town of Plymouth, thirty-five years having been spent in Footville, his first home being near that village. Two years ago Mr. Ryan was appointed postmaster of the village, he holding the office at the time of his death. His wife died about two years ago. He leaves seven children—five daughters and two sons—Mrs. Kittie Kelly, of Richfield, Wis.; Mrs. Annis, of Sterling, Ill.; Misses Hattie, Maggie, and Fannie; and Willie and Arthur Ryan, all of Footville, all the children being at their father's home at the time of his death. He also leaves three sisters and two brothers—Mrs. Mary Dwyer, of this city; Mrs. F. Meehan, of Beloit; Mrs. Thomas Crowley, of Milton Junction; Daniel Ryan, of this city, and W. P. Ryan, of St. Paul, Minn.

Mr. Ryan was a member of Division No. 3, Ancient Order of Hibernians, and was well known in this city. He spent two years in the army, and was a man possessing a large and warm heart, making friends wherever he went. He commenced life in Rock county a poor boy, but with the opportunities before him in this rapidly developing country, he was enabled, in the short life allotted to him, to leave a competence for his surviving children.

The funeral will be held from St. Augustine church, Footville, on Friday morning at 9:30 o'clock and the interment will be in Mount Olivet. The Ancient Order of Hibernians will attend the funeral in a body.

K. C. McLin, Esq., of Kenosha, Wis., writes: "When I commenced taking your 'Discovery' I was very low with a cough, and at times spit up much blood. I was not able to do the least work, but most of the time was in bed. I was all run-down, very weak, my head was dizzy, and I was extremely despondent. The first bottle I took did not seem to do me much good, but I had faith in it and continued using it until I had taken fifteen bottles, and now I do not look nor feel like the same man I was one year ago. People are astonished, and say, 'well, last year this time I would not have thought that you would be living now.' I can thankfully say I am entirely cured of a disease which, but for your wonderful 'Discovery,' would have resulted in my death."

DISAPPOINTING.

That democracy is not well satisfied with the practical workings of tariff reform is very apparent. Figures, which tell the story month after month disclose the fallacy of a theory that even the most ardent democrat is forced to recognize.

The prediction that a low tariff would contribute to national prosperity is now pronounced a snare and a delusion, for which the democratic party is justly held accountable. The reform movement, not only failed in this respect but it deprived the government of support, making it necessary to borrow money for running expenses, and demonstrating beyond question that free trade, and not the tariff, is a tax. Another disappointing feature of the movement is, that instead of opening up the markets of the world, it has opened up the American market to the world, and foreign competition has not been slow to step in and reap the advantages.

The New York Tribune recently compiled some figures taken from the official United States treasury reports for the month of March, 1895, that show the practical workings of the new law. The importation of live animals and articles of food increased $7,000,000 over the month of March, 1894. For the corresponding months, our export trade decreased $5,000,000. If these ratios are kept up for a year it means an increase of exports of $60,000,000 and an increase of imports of eighty four million dollars. In other words it means that the markets of the world are handling sixty million dollars worth less of American goods this year than they did last, and that America is buying from the old world eighty-four million dollars worth of goods this year that should be produced by home labor for the home market.

In spite of this increase of imported goods, the reduced tariff deprives the government of revenue sufficient to pay running expenses, so that the evil is two fold. That the results are disappointing is very natural, and it is not at all surprising that many good democrats are ready to turn the country over to republican rule.

If there is anything that democracy harps on to excess it is constitutional rights, this has always been a weakness with the democratic party. Slavery was a constitutional right, free silver coinage is a constitutional right and as Congressman Little of Arkansas puts it "The democratic party still loves the constitution."

It is well for this country that there are some things more sacred than democratic affection. The loss of slavery preserved the nation without sacrificing the constitution.

National honor will be preserved without shattering the constitution, when the popular verdict is rendered on the silver question in 1896. Common honesty and common sense are qualifications that go well together, they could be cultivated to advantage by the democratic party.

Texas is not much of a state for A. P. Aism. There are three lodges in the state. The strongest one, at Dallas, has recently surrendered its charter, after being defeated by a Catholic alderman in a ward that had less than a dozen Catholics, and claimed to have 600 A. P. A's.

The order is doomed to defeat, wherever it attempts to dictate or control politics. This enlightened country has less use for A. P. Aism than it had for know-nothingism, half a century ago.

TO WIND UP THE B. M. A' AFFAIRS.
Dissolution Will Take Place On Tuesday Evening, May 21.

The affairs of the Janesville Business Men's association will probably be wound up at a meeting to be held at the association rooms Tuesday evening, May 21. At a meeting of the officers and directors of the association held last evening a motion was adopted that the members of the association in good standing be called to meet for that purpose at the time and place stated. This action was decided upon as it was decided to be impossible to run the association while many members neglect to pay their dues.

That this course has to be adopted, is much to the discredit to Janesville. The association has accomplished much good for the town and that it would die when a little interest in its success would make it a stronger organization than ever is generally regretted.

BOTH COTTON MILLS ARE NOW RUNNING

UPPER FACTORY WAS STARTED UP TODAY.

Manager Heller Says That The Company Expect That Most If Not All Of The Old Hands Will Go Back To Their Looms In A Few Days—General City News.

The familiar tones of the upper cotton factory bell were heard at 5 o'clock this morning, and again at 6:30 o'clock, giving notice that the factory was ready to start up again. "We are running at both factories," said Manager Heller to a Gazette reporter, "however, only a light force went to work at the upper factory this morning. There is nobody at work in the 'mule' room, but the other spindles are all moving. A number of old employees have been around this morning, and appear willing to resume work, but are holding off seemingly on account of fear of trouble with some of the strike agitators should they go to work. The 'mule' room only employs four hands, and we can run our factories without these, but not to full capacity. I cannot say just what we will do. Of course, if our own help comes back, we will undoubtedly keep running, possibly we may run right along with a light force. I think, however, that within a few days more most if not all of our old help will be at work."

FEAST OF THE GUILD IS A MERRY AFFAIR

SUPPER WAS MUCH ENJOYED LAST NIGHT.

After The Repast Had Been Attended To Social Joys Were Drawn Upon Musical Literary Society End Their Work—Mrs. Brockhouse Surprised By Good Templars.

Christ Church Guild simply outdid itself in the supper it served at the parish house last night. It was not an old-time affair, but more like a party supper, and up to date at that. It was intimated that some of the ladies must have attended the cooking school and learned their lesson well, for the guests were served with cold meat, hot cream potatoes, bread and butter, pickles, strawberry short cake, with plenty of whipped cream, various kinds of cake, including violet cake—according to Miss Andrews' recipe—and coffee. The tables, very prettily arranged, were spread in the Sunday school room, and flowers and potted plants made everything appear most attractive. A large number of people were in attendance, which kept the ladies at work for some time; but they were glad to be busy.

After supper the young people, and all were young, no matter how many summers and winters they had seen, went to the hall above where walking, matches, "Jerusalem" and other highly edifying games were indulged in, to the delight of everyone. Altogether the supper and its accompaniments were most successful and enjoyable, and all felt that they wanted to be present at the next one.

Closed Their Winter's Work.

With the program presented at the meeting held last evening, at the home of Miss Rose Hathorn, the Musical-Literary society closed its work of the winter; a work that has been helpful and interesting to all who have taken part in it. Programs are now in hand for use the coming fall, and the numbers will be assigned in due time. The study of the society leads to better knowledge of the different schools of music and can but stimulate to higher ideals and easier labor. The closing program was as follows, it being a Rossini evening:

CITIES MUST PAY THE LICENSE FEE

COUNTY WINS THE "EDGERTON LIQUOR CASE."

Ruling of The Supreme Court Is That The Demurrer Should Not Be Sustained—Costs Janesville About $12,000—Warner-Cuckow and Ferris—Berlin Works Cases Affirmed.

Two Janesville cases were decided by the supreme court at Madison today, the ruling of the license money suit of the County of Rock vs. the City of Edgerton, being reversed, while the decision in the case of Clara B. Warner vs. George Hanthorn, guardian, vs. Cuckow was affirmed. The case of Ferris vs. the Berlin Machine Works of Beloit, was also affirmed.

The case of Rock county against the city of Edgerton was brought in the circuit court for Rock county to secure certain moneys claimed by the county that had been paid to the city of Edgerton as license fees for the sale of intoxicating liquors. The attorneys for the city demurred to the complaint which demurrer was sustained by the circuit court for Rock county, and an appeal was taken from this ruling of the court. The supreme court this morning reversed the decision and remanded the case for further proceedings according to law.

Case an Interesting One.

The case is an interesting one as it involves the right of the legislature to pass a law favorable to only a certain portion of the state. In 1887 a law was passed providing that all cities in Rock county should pay into the county treasury fifty dollars for every license to sell intoxicating liquors, granted by the city. This money was to be used for the poor fund of the county. From the year 1889 to 1893 inclusive, Edgerton granted thirty such licenses and the county claims that $1,500 is due it as a consequence of the law of 1887. The decision this morning while it only passed on the sufficiency of the complaint, really went into the merits of the case as the city's attorney attacked the law as unconstitutional, and assigned this as a reason for their demurrer to the complaint. The decision this morning has the effect of holding that their objections as to the constitutionality of the law are not well grounded.

Janesville Must Pay $12,000.

The decision of the supreme court will be a surprise to Janesville, Beloit and other places that have issued licenses and withheld the fee from the county. Janesville people will see the scope and magnitude of this decision when they are informed that the license fee has been withheld by the city since 1891; that from 1892 to 1895 more than fifty saloon licenses have been issued each year, and therefore, the sum that Janesville will be called upon to pay the county will amount to $12,000 or more, probably with interest. It is estimated that at least fifty licenses will be issued in July at $500 each, which will bring into the city treasury $25,000 or more, at least one half of which will be required to pay the county the delinquent fee. Few people in the city who were posted in the matter ever imagined the supreme court would render a decision compelling the payment of this license fee to the county, therefore, the announcement of the fact will be a surprise to them.

The Warner-Cuckow Case.

The case of Clara P. Warner by George Hanthorn, her guardian, appellant vs. S. J. Cuckow, respondent was appealed from the circuit court for Rock county. The action was brought to secure $2,750 claimed by the appellant for rents and money received from the sale of products belonging to the appellant. The respondent not only denied the validity of this claim but set up a claim for over $7,000 paid out by him for the appellant as well as for $1,000 for services rendered for her. The lower court gave the respondent a verdict for $7,000 paid out by him for the appellant as well as for $1,000 for services rendered for her. The lower court gave the respondent a verdict for $1,900 and the cost of the action from which verdict the appeal was taken, the verdict as above stated being affirmed.

Another case appealed from the Rock county circuit court was that of Arthur O. Ferris, respondent, against the Berlin Machine Works, of Beloit, appellant. The respondent secured a verdict of $2,750 for personal injuries sustained in the shops of the company while employed by the appellant company. The company defended, on the ground that the respondent was negligent in operating the machine when injured, while the respondent showed that the machine was known to be defective by the foreman of the company; the supreme court affirming the circuit court's decision.

BUY DEAD HOGS FOR SOAP GREASE

Stock Killed En Route Worth Money At Chicago.

"What is done with the stock killed in transit?" is a question that is often asked of the shippers.

"The carcasses are bought by the soap factory men," they will answer. Scarcely a train rolls into Chicago in which from one to a dozen dead animals are not found. The cars are always loaded to about their full capacity and the first animal to get "down" in transit is soon trampled to death by the others. Buyers are always on hand to purchase the carcasses for the big soap factories, and many of them have been in that business for years. The loss by death is quite an item to the shippers. They scarcely ever get more than fifty cents a hundred for the dead stock while in all probability they have paid as high as $7 a hundred for the same "critter."

BIG DAMAGE CASE ENDS WITH A JERK

FRED ALBRECHT WILL GET NO DAMAGES FOR INJURY.

Had Given the Fidelity Trust Company, Which Corporation Represented the Railroad Company, a Receipt In Full But Claimed It Was Under a Misapprehension.

The Waukesha damage case—Albrecht against the Milwaukee & Superior Railroad Company—in which the plaintiff sought to recover $25,000 damages, came to an abrupt end this morning when the testimony was closed. Judge Bennett directed the jury to return a verdict for the defendant, on the ground that the plaintiff had given a receipt in full for all claims against the defendant company, this being practically the grounds upon which the supreme court reversed the verdict of the former trial and ordered a new trial.

It appears that the plaintiff gave a receipt to the Fidelity and Trust Company, who were acting for the defendant company, in full for all claims and demands, the amount paid being $250. Plaintiff in his testimony, however, attempted to show that in giving this receipt he did not understand its scope, supposing it to be only for four months wages.

The next case to be taken up tomorrow is that of Powers against Shively, and is for $3,000 personal damages. Powers is a carpenter and was at work on a building of the defendant's in Evansville, when a beam or scaffolding gave way, the plaintiff falling some distance, breaking several ribs and sustaining other internal injuries for which he seeks to recover the above damage.

"Yankee Pat" Sheridan Meets with an Accident While Driving.

Patrick Sheridan, who is better known as "Yankee Pat," will carry a bad scar on his head for some time to come. He was at once taken to the office of Dr. Dudley, where several stitches were required to close up the wound.

ARRESTED HIMSELF AND IS NOW IN JAIL

GEORGE WOOD SAVED THE POLICE TROUBLE.

He Slapped Gusta Hake's Face While On a Drunk and Then Went Down To Jail And Asked For a Cell—Charles Viney's Hen Coop Was Cleared of Fowls.

"I have slapped Gusta Hake's face and I want to arrest myself" said George Wood as he knocked on the jail door, last night.

"All right" replied Turnkey North, who is always ready to accommodate, "we'll give you a cell." Wood was on a drunk yesterday and met Mrs. Hake at the home of a mutual friend. He commenced to abuse her, the wordy quarrel culminating in Wood's slapping her in the face. Mrs. Hake secured a warrant for his arrest and this morning Officer Cochrane introduced Wood to Judge Phelps. He pleaded not guilty to a charge of assault and battery, but after three or four witnesses had testified in the matter the judge convicted the defendant and sentenced him to pay a fine of $10 and costs, or stand committed to the county jail at hard labor for twelve days. Wood did not have the money to pay the fine and consequently went down to the Hotel Appleby.

The chicken thief who seems to be waxing exceedingly fat in this part of the country, has added another victim to his list. Charles Viney who resides at 174 Washington street is at present mourning the loss of thirty-nine birds out of a healthy flock of forty-one. When Mr. Viney entered the coop with enough food for the forty-one he was surprised to find that hereafter he would be expected to feed but three lonely chicks, for that number was all he found clinging to the perch. Feathers were scattered in all directions. Mr. Viney says there is very little money in raising chickens, anyway, but when they sell at this price, he will give it up. The three survivors will be kept in an iron safe.

UP HILL.

Does the road wind up hill all the way?
Yes, to the very end.
Will the day's journey take the whole long day?
From morn to night, my friend.
But is there for the night a resting place?
A roof for when the slow, dark hours begin?
May not the darkness hide it from my face?
You cannot miss that inn.
Shall I meet other wayfarers at night,
Those who have gone before?
Then must I knock or call when just in sight?
They will not keep you standing at the door.
Shall I find comfort, travel sore and weak?
Of labor you shall find the sum.
Will there be beds for me and all who seek?
Yes, beds for all who come.
—New York Ledger.

THE YOUNG SEIGNEUR

His chief occupation in the daytime was to stand on the bench by the small barred window and watch the pigeons on the roof and in the caves of the hospital opposite. For five years he had done this, and it was the one thing in his whole life during that time which had a charm for him. Every change of weather and season was registered there as plainly as if he could see the surface of the world. In the summer the slates seemed to have a great fire beneath them, for a quivering hot air rose up from them, and the pigeons never alighted on them save in the early morning or in the evening. Just over the peak of the roof could be seen the topmost branch of an oak, too slight to bear the weight of the pigeons, but the eaves under the projecting roof were dark and cool, and there his eyes rested when he tired of the hard blue sky and the glare of the roof. He could also see the top of the hospital windows, barred up and down, but never anything within, for the windows were ever dusty, and all was dark beyond. But now and then he heard bitter cries coming through one open window in the summer time, and he listened to them grow fainter and fainter, till they sank to a low moaning and then ceased altogether.

In winter the roof was covered for months by a blanket of snow, which looked like a shawl of impacted wool, white and restful, and the hospital windows were spread with frost. But the pigeons were the same—almost as gay and walking on the ledges of the roof or crowding on the shelves of the lead pipes. He studied them much, but he loved them more. His prison was less a prison because of them, and in the long five years of captivity he found himself more in touch with them than with the wardens of the prison or any of his companions.

With the former he was respectful, and he gave them no trouble at all. With the latter he had nothing in common, for they were criminals, and he had blundered when wild and mad with drink, so wild and mad that he had no remembrance, absolutely none, of the incident by which Jean Vigot lost his life. He remembered that they had played cards far into the night; that they had quarreled, then made their peace again; that the others had left; that they had begun playing cards and drinking again, and then all was blurred, save for a vague recollection that he had won all the money Vigot had and had pocketed it. Then came a blank. He waked to find two officers of the law beside him, and the body of Jean Vigot, stark and dreadful, a few feet away.

When the officer put their hands upon him, he shook them off. When they did it again, he would have fought them to the death had it not been for his friend, tall Medallion, who laid a strong hand on his arm and said, "Steady, converse, steady!" and he had yielded to the firm, friendly pressure.

Medallion had left no stone unturned to clear him at the trial, had himself played detective unceasingly, but the hard facts remained there, and on a chain of circumstantial evidence Louis Converse, the young seigneur, was sent to prison for ten years for manslaughter. That was the compromise effected. Louis himself had said only that he didn't remember, but he could not believe he had committed the crime. Robbery? He shrugged his shoulders at that. He insisted that his lawyer should not reply to the insulting and foolish suggestion.

But the evidence had shown that Vigot had all the winnings when the other members of the party left the two, and this very money had been found in Louis' pocket. There was only Louis' word that they had played cards again. Anger? Possibly. Louis could not remember, though he knew they had quarreled. The judge himself, charging the jury, said that he never before saw a prisoner so frank and outwardly honest, but warned them that they must not lose sight of the crime itself, the taking of a human life, whereby a woman was made a widow and a child fatherless.

And so with the few remarks the judge sentenced the young seigneur to ten years in prison, and then himself, shaken and pale, left the courtroom hurriedly, for Louis Converse's father had been his friend from boyhood.

Louis took his sentence calmly, looking the judge squarely in the eyes, and when the judge stopped he bowed to him, turned to the jury and said: "Gentlemen, you have ruined my life. You don't know, and I don't know, who killed the man. You have guessed, and I take the penalty. Suppose I'm innocent. How will you feel when the truth comes out? You've known me more or less these 20 years, and you've said with no more knowledge than I've got that I did this miserable thing. I don't know but that one of you did it, but you are safe, and I take my ten years."

He turned from them, and as he did so he saw a woman looking at him from a corner of the courtroom with a strange, wild expression. At the moment he saw no more than an excited, bewildered face, but afterward this face came and went before him, flashing in and out of dark places in a mocking sort of way. As he went from the courtroom another woman made her way to him in spite of the guards. It was the little chemist's wife, who years before had been his father's housekeeper, who had been present when he first opened his eyes on the world.

"My poor boy! My poor boy!" she said, clasping his manacled hands. He kissed her on the cheek, without a word, and hurried on into his prison, and the good world was shut out. In prison he refused to see all visitors, even Medallion, the little chemist's wife, and the good Father Fabro. Letters, too, he refused to accept and read. He had no contact, wished no contact, with the outer world, but lived his hard, lonely life by himself, silent, brooding, studious, for now books were to him a pleasure. And he wrote, too, but never to any soul outside the prison. This life had nothing to do with the world from which he came, and he meant that it should not.

So perfect a prisoner was he that the wardens protected him from visitors, and he was never but once twice stared at, and then he saw nothing, heard nothing. He had entered his prison a wild, excitable, dissipated youth, and he had become a mature, quiet, cold, brooding man. Five years had done the work of 20. He lived the life of the prison, yet he was not a part of it, nor yet was he a part of the world without. And the face of the woman who looked at him so strangely in the courtroom haunted him now and then, so that at last it became a part of his real life, which was lived largely at the window, where he looked out at the pigeons on the roof of the hospital.

"She was sorry for me," he said many a time to himself. He was sorry for himself, and he was shaken with misery often, so that he rocked to and fro as he sat on his bed, and a warden heard him cry out even in the last days of his imprisonment, "O God, canst thou do everything but speak?" And again, "That hour, the memory of that hour, in exchange for my ruined life!"

But there were times when he was very quiet and calm, and he spent hours in watching the ways of the pigeons, and he was doing this one day when the jailer came to him and said: "M. Converse, you are free. The governor has out of five years from your sentence."

Then he was told that people were waiting without—Medallion and the little chemist and his wife and others more important—but he would not go to meet them, and he stepped into the old world alone at dawn the next morning and looked out upon a still, sleeping town. And there was no one stirring in the place, but suddenly there stood before him a woman, who had watched by the prison gates all night, and she put out a hand in entreaty and said, with a breaking voice, "You are free at last!"

He remembered her—the woman who had looked at him so anxiously and sorrowfully in the courtroom. He looked at her kindly now, yet he was dazed, too, with his new advent to freedom and the good earth.

"Why did you come to meet me?" he asked.

"I was sorry for you," she replied.

"But that is no reason."

"I once committed a crime," she whispered, with shrinking bitterness.

"That's bad," he said.

"Were you punished?"

She shook her head and answered, "No."

"That's worse," he added.

"I let some one else take my crime upon him and be punished for it," she said, an agony in her eyes.

"Why was that?" he said, looking at her intently.

"I had a little child," was her reply.

"And the other?"

"He was alone in the world," she said.

A bitter smile crept to his lips, and his eyes were all afire, for a strange thought came to him. Then he shut his eyes, and when he opened them again discovery was in them.

"I remember you now," he said. "I remember I waked and saw you looking at me that night! Who was the father of your child?" he asked eagerly.

"Jean Vigot," she replied. "He left me to starve."

"I am innocent of his death!" he said quietly and gladly.

She nodded. He was silent for a moment.

"The child still lives?" he asked.

She nodded again. "Well, let it be so," he added. "But you owe me five years and a lost reputation."

"I wish to God I could give them back," she cried, tears streaming down her cheeks. "It was for my child, he was so young!"

"It can't be helped now," he said, and he turned away from her.

"Won't you forgive me?" she asked bitterly.

"Won't you give me back those five years?" he replied meaningly.

"If the child did not need me, I would give my life," she answered. "I owe it to you." Her haggard, hunted face made him sorry. He, too, had suffered.

"It's all right," he answered gently. "Take care of your child."

And again he moved away from her and went down the little hill with a cloud gone from his face that had rested there five years. Once he turned around. The woman was gone, but over the prison a flock of pigeons were flying. He took off his hat to them. Then he went through the town looking neither to right nor left and came to his own house, where the summer morning was already entering the open window, though he had looked to find the place closed and dark. The little chemist's wife met him in the doorway. She could not speak, nor could he, but he kissed her as he had done when he went condemned to prison. Then he passed on to his own room, and entering sat down before the open window and peacefully drank in the glory of a new world. But more than once he choked down a sob that rose in his throat. —Gilbert Parker in New York Herald.

THE GREATNESS OF INDIA.

Something of Its Population, Religion, Crops and Beasts.

There are some big figures in a recent blue book upon Indian affairs that has just been published in England, says the New York Evening Post. The grand total of the population, including British India and native states, according to the census of 1891, was 287,223,431, as compared with 253,793,514 at the census of 1881, the males numbering 146,727,296 and the females numbering 146,496,135. Taking the distribution of population according to religion there was in 1891 207,731,727 Hindoos, 57,321,164 Mohammedans, 9,820,467 aboriginals, 7,131,361 Buddhists, 2,284,380 Christians, 1,907,833 Sikhs, 1,416,638 Jains, 89,904 Parsees, 17,194 Jews and 42,763 of other religions. Of the Christian population 1,315,263 were certified to be Roman Catholics and 295,016 Church of England. The total number of police officers reported during 1892 was 125,639, as against 124,550 in 1891 and 115,723 in 1890, the police being composed of 150,516 officers and men. The opium revenue in 1892-3 was Rs. 7,993,180 and the expenditure Rs. 1,602,496, giving as the net receipts on opium Rs. 6,390,384. In the last ten years the net receipts on opium have been Rs. 62,922,987, while the average annual number of chests of Bengal opium sold for export during the last ten years has been 53,394. The actual area on which crops of various kinds were grown in India in 1892-3 was 195,897,389 acres, of which 65,743,812 were devoted to rice, 21,484,889 to wheat and 92,927,655 to other food grains, including pulse. The area devoted to cotton was 8,940,248 acres, to Jute 2,181,334, to oil seeds 13,545,025, to tobacco 1,149,548, to sugar cane 2,798,637, to tea 360,463 and to coffee 122,788. The length of railway lines open to traffic in 1893 was 18,459 miles, the number of passengers conveyed was 134,700,469, the goods and minerals carried represented 28,727,386 tons, the gross receipts were Rs. 23,955,753 and the net earnings Rs. 12,679,200. In 1892 21,988 human beings and 81,668 head of cattle were killed by snakes and wild beasts, the chief human mortality (19,025) having been due to snake bite. Tigers claimed 947 human victims, leopards 260, wolves 182, bears 145 and elephants 72. On the other hand, whereas only 4,498 cattle were killed by snake bite, no fewer than 29,969 were devoured by tigers, 30,013 by leopards and 6,758 by wolves.

NOW, THE TIME TO MAKE MONEY.

Last month I cleared, after paying all expenses, $235.38; the month before $186.86 and have at the same time attended to my regular business. I believe anyone, anywhere, can do as well, as I have not a particularly good location and not much experience. When you have an article that every family wants, it is very easy selling it. It seems strange that a good, cheap dish washer has never before placed on the market. With the perfection, which sells for $5 you can wash and dry the dishes for a family in two minutes, without putting the hands in water. As soon as people see the washer work, they want one, and that is why so much money can be made so quickly. For full particulars address The Perfection Mfg. Co., Station O, Fairview, Ill. I feel convinced that any lady or gentleman, in any location can make $5 to $10 a day, as every family will very soon have a dish washer. Try it and publish your experience for the benefit of others. ALICE O.

"What a Lovely Complexion!"
"Isn't her complexion charming!" These are expressions we hear every day, made by women in reference to others, which reveal a pardonable envy, and one which can be gratified.
The secret of good health, as indicated by a rich color, and well-rounded figure, is found in a good digestion.
Shopping tours, dances and entertainments indulged in, will leave you utterly fagged out, unless you are obtaining all the value from your food; and it is so easy to accomplish this that you will wonder no one has spoken to you of it before.
Try with each meal, and at bed-time, a wineglassful or more of the Genuine Johann Hoff's Malt Extract, which you will find to be most acceptable to the palate as a beverage, and will lift you right on to the plane of the vivacious and trim-figured sister you admire so much, and who seems capable of enduring endless fatigue.
Then, again, we must remember the nursing mother, where two lives are dependent upon the proper nourishing of the one. Surely nothing can be more valuable to the mother, nor give more comfort to the baby, by producing a generous flow of milk, than the

ALL FAMILIES WANT THE GAZETTE PRIZE

BABY CONTEST IS GETTING VERY SPIRITED.

Five Hundred Dollars Worth of Building and Loan Association Stock Is a Nice Nest Egg For a Three Year Old and the Vete Between Several Contestants is Very Close.

The time is not far distant now, when some Janesville baby will get The Gazette's $500 prize. The ballot closes June 1, and then the prize will be awarded. Five hundred dollars is a nice sum for a baby to begin life with. Put it out at interest and when the babe becomes the man or woman, enough cash for a start in life is available.

Do not think that you can sit down and wait for that $500 to come to your home. The ballots are piling up rapidly, for, naturally enough, $500 is enough to encourage every father and mother in Janesville to strive for that prize for their "ownest own." Competition is getting strong as the time begins to narrow down and in this case the old adage, "everything comes to he who waits" is far from true. It should be "everything comes to he who hustles." The Gazette has been asked many times to publish the vote as it stands, but this would not be fair. It would tell Brown that Jones was leading him, and The Gazette wishes to treat all hands alike. However, the count is close between several contestants up to date, and, like everything else, the "early bird," etc., applies.

The Gazette's offer is this: The baby receiving the highest number of votes will be presented with $500 worth of stock in the Rock County Building, Loan & Savings Association.

It will buy an education. It will buy a building lot. It will buy a piano and the lessons necessary to play upon it.

It is more than many people are able to save in a life time. Of course all the mothers and fathers want it for their babe. How to get it is told below:

The polls opened on May 1st and will remain open until June 1. The baby that receives the most ballots in that time will receive a certificate calling for these five shares of stock. There are no dues to be paid, no assessments to be met, no installments to provide for. The stock stands for $500 in cash and on its maturity, which will be in nine and one-third years, the money will be ready. The prize is a handsome one—it is well worth winning and the conditions of the ballot are as follows:

From March 1 until June 1, a coupon will be printed in each issue of The Gazette.

Any one, anywhere in any state is entitled to vote as often as they buy a copy of The Janesville Gazette containing the above ballot.

Cut the ballot out (trimming on the dotted lines.) Write in the name of your candidate and enclose same in an envelope addressed to Ballot Editor, Gazette, Janesville, Wis.

Only one person can be voted for on one ballot.

The baby who receives the largest number of votes will receive five shares of stock in the Rock County Building & Savings Association, cash value, $500 at maturity.

The contest will close June 1 at 9 p. m., and the stock will be delivered as soon as the count of votes is completed.

Any non-subscriber who will subscribe for The Gazette and pay in advance will be entitled to the following number of ballots:

New subscriber paid in advance one month, 100 votes.

New subscriber paid in advance two months, 250 votes.

New subscriber paid in advance six months, 900 votes.

New subscriber paid in advance one year, 2,000 votes.

Each new subscriber who pays in advance and casts the number of votes specified is also entitled, of course, to cut coupons from the paper from day to day and vote in the regular manner.

No person will be allowed extra votes for stopping his paper and having it sent to another name at the same address.

In every instance they must be bona fide new subscribers.

No person will be allowed to stop his paper on Monday and start it again Tuesday and claim the premium offered.

No votes can be transferred from one candidate to another after being registered in this office. Candidates must not be more than three years of age March 1, 1895, and must live in Janesville.

THE BALLOT.

The Publishers of "The Janesville Gazette" will give 5 Shares of stock in the Rock County Building, Loan & Savings Association to the Baby who receives the largest number of ballots.
